

Home and Garden

In 2020, people are spending most of their time at home and in their yards and gardens. This is big news for home and garden professionals—and big business, too.

Share your story and your passion with Monterey County Weekly readers. Strengthen the relationship you have with existing clients, plus foster new ones. Invite the community to do business with you in this exclusive section featuring local home and garden professionals.

77% of Monterey County Weekly readers say they frequently purchase products or services from ads seen in the paper and on the website.
